Hard Love

As we approach the celebration of Valentine's Day, it would be beneficial for us to remember what the day was originally celebrated for: St. Valentine. Very little is known for certain about St. Valentine except that he was a martyr for the faith. However, there are several legends surrounding him. Whether or not the legends are true, the lessons we can glean from them are instructive for us Christians. I want to highlight two legends and show how they have a common theme.

The first story occurred during Valentine's trial. The judge or a prison guard (depending on the account) heard Valentine's proclamation of the Gospel and believed it for himself. The judge/guard had a blind daughter that he begged Valentine to heal. In some accounts, Valentine miraculously healed the girl by a prayer to God. In other accounts, Valentine used ointment to help cure the girl over several months. The lesson learned from this story is that Valentine truly cared for and loved the judge/guard and his daughter. Because of Valentine's love, care, and intercession for the judge/guard and his daughter, God in His mercy and by His grace alone healed the girl's ailment.

The second story is that Valentine was arrested for illegally officiating marriages for Roman soldiers. The Roman Emperor had banned his soldiers from marrying, thinking that it made them weak, enticing them to abandon their duties as soldiers to stay with their wives. Valentine, though, as a priest still encouraged soldiers to get married since marriage was a gift from God. The lesson learned from this story is that Valentine cared for and loved the soldiers who desired a God-pleasing marriage. Through Valentine, God brought about many marriages that would have otherwise been prevented.

In both of these stories, Valentine demonstrated a particular type of love that our culture has lost. The secular Valentine's Day celebrations promote romantic gestures, sappy love notes, and gift-giving. While none of these are wrong in and of themselves, they can also be shallow and are relatively easy to do. St. Valentine, however, is an example of hard love. Valentine cared for God's people enough that he did the hard things of confessing the truth that would cost him his life, and by opposing the secular law which opposed the truth of the Gospel. First and foremost, he always preached Christ crucified. Second, he cared for God's people in the ways they needed, even if they weren't easy.

So, as you celebrate Valentine's Day, don't only do the easy things – the love notes, romantic gestures, and gifts. Look at the people in your life and see what they actually need. Begin your day with prayer: give thanks to God for the family and friends in your life and pray that they would be sustained in the true faith until life everlasting. Then, show your love for them by doing something they need.

Love never promised to be easy. Love wants what is best for those around you. For this Valentine's Day, remember St. Valentine's example and do something for the ones you love that they need, not what you want or what is easy. In this way, you will be an example of Christ to them because He did what we needed, not what was easy.

Your servant in Christ,

Vicar Mars

Sunday School Christmas Program

Lessons & Carols

Thank you to all those who helped bring this wonderful program together, for all the time spent and dedication to making this a program something we could all enjoy this Christmas and Epiphany season! You are all such a blessing, as are the children, who are such a bright light in this congregation and so talented. Their music was such a wonderful blessing!

LIFE SUNDAY 2026 – Life Sunday was celebrated on January 11, the Baptism of our Lord. To celebrate the life we have in Christ and the sanctity of every human life we served cake during the Sunday School hour as well as having multiple life handouts for our members to take. As we celebrated the Baptism of our Lord we also recognized those who were baptized in 2025 by presenting them with a baptism Christmon with their name and date of baptism on the back. The Sunday School children were given a LIFE activity sheet as well as a flower to give to their moms in thanksgiving for the life that they gave them.

Life Quotes – “You are the light of the world” (Matthew 5:14). God’s people do wonderful things before the world: march for life, support local pregnancy resource centers, speak up on behalf of the unborn and vulnerable. However, we must always remember that we are to shine our light before men, not to earn favor with men or with God. Such self-serving works “will not make your voice be heard on high” (Isaiah 58:4). Instead, knowing Christ crucified and having the mind of Christ (1 Corinthians 2:2, 16), we let our light shine before men to give glory to God (Matthew 5:16), that all might have life now and forever.

Stewardship Board's Voter's Meeting Follow-up:

As a follow-up to our December Voter's meeting, we are providing some background about the organizations Zion will be supporting via our 2025 Endowment Fund and the Stolzenburg Quarterly grant distributions. The board's general philosophy has been to recommend LCMS entities or LCMS Recognized Service Organizations to the congregation for distributions with input/suggestions from the congregation.

Lutherans for Life [<https://lutheransforlife.org/>]. Lutherans For Life exists to equip Lutherans and their neighbors to be Gospel-motivated voices For Life. We do this through our quarterly journal, "LifeDate," countless resources produced for local congregations, Life Sunday materials, speaking and preaching, online Chats 4Life, Frontline conference calls, Life Teams and Life Chapters, and national and regional conferences.

[Zion has a "Life Team": contact Debra Rieddle for more information and activities.]

Lutheran Heritage Foundation [<https://www.lhfmissions.org/>] gives books of the Lutheran faith to people around the world in their own languages. They work in nearly 100 countries and have translated over 1,200 titles in more than 140 languages. Visit their website to view their current projects.

Doxology [<https://www.doxology.us/>] provides training, mentoring and consultation services for pastors seeking to enhance their ability to help people struggling with the ever-increasing personal, family and social complexities of contemporary life. DOXOLOGY strengthens pastors so they can more faithfully pastor others.
